SUBJECT: LOCAL SKATERS COMPETE IN REGIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

The Skating Club of New Hartford is extremely proud to announce that two of their members, Shannon Creedon and Amanda Tucciarone, participated in the 2007 North Atlantic Regional Figure Skating Championships, held October 9th through October 14th, in Jamestown, NY. The competition is being hosted by the Jamestown Skating Club. This competition is the first step towards competition in the United States Figure Skating Junior National Championships.

Both skaters were seasoned, having competed in this competition last year, and competed in the Girls Juvenile division, although they skated in different qualifying groups.

Shannon Creedon, age 13, from New Hartford, and Amanda Tucciarone, age 13, also from New Hartford, placed well in their respective qualifying flights. They were the only two skaters from this area that competed in this competition.

Skaters that qualified from this competition are eligible to attend the Junior National Championships, held November 28th through December 2nd, in Cleveland, Ohio.

Details of the competition can be found on the Jamestown Skating Club website, at <http://chautauquaice.com/regionals/home.asp>.

Member registration for Learn To Skate classes and Club Membership with the Skating Club of New Hartford is still ongoing. People wishing to register can contact Dan Toczala at (315) 292-8645, or scnh@adelphia.net.
